The Rotary Club of Eagan has awarded grants to a range of community organizations that provide human services and promote the educational and cultural welfare of the city and the surrounding area. A total of 21 community grants were given, in addition to the regular support provided to the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts.

The organizations receiving grants were: the CAP Agency, Caponi Art Park, Cheerful Givers, Community Action Council, Dakota Center for the Arts, Dakota Ramblers 4-H Club, Dakota Woodlands, the Dakota County Technical College Foundation, Eagan Citizens Crime Prevention Council, Eagan High School Robotics Team, Eagan Men's Chorus, School District 191, Inver Hills Community College Foundation, July 4th Funfest, Kids n' Kinship, Lifeworks, Midwest Special Services, Minnesota Valley Humane Society, Dakota County Regional Chamber of Commerce Foundation, ProAct Inc., and the YMCA.

The grants program was directed by the community grants committee, which includes members Steven Ditschler, Michelle Harrington, Quinn Hutson, Scott Swenson and Russ Zellmer, and is led by Roy Wallace, Eagan Rotary's community service chair.

Much of the funding for this community support program comes from the Rotary's annual Art Gala. The next Art Gala is Feb. 9 at the Eagan Community Center, 1501 Central Parkway.
